From the Principal's office

On February 11th, Painted Rock Academy will proudly induct our first 24 applicants into our brand-new chapter of the National Elementary Honor Society (NEHS). The NEHS recognizes students for outstanding academic performance and demonstrating personal responsibility. NEHS students, like their National Junior Honor Society (NJHS) counterparts, “provide meaningful service to the school and community and develop essential leadership skills.”

The NEHS and NJHS is open to students who excel academically and who also demonstrate extraordinary responsibility. Through these clubs, students develop leadership skills through public service projects; they also promote a positive school climate, as well as motivate their peers to strive for their highest potential. In short, NEHS encourages student achievement, serves the school and greater communities, and brings a tradition of excellence to our school. We are extremely proud of our NEHS and NJHS students!

Mr. J. Bauer, Principal
