I hope you are all doing well. As we enjoy another month of school together, I want to take a moment to recognize and express my gratitude for the incredible parent volunteers on our campus.

Your time, energy, and dedication are the backbone of so many programs and events that enrich our students' experiences. Whether you are helping in the classroom, organizing events, assisting with field trips, or supporting extracurricular activities, your involvement sends a powerful message to our children about the value of education and community.
